The big hog of Mr. Oswald F. Cushtis, of near Cashville, slaughtered last Tuesday, weighed 1021 pounds. It was 2 years and 10 months old and its weight a year ago, it is stated, would not exceed 325 pounds, and therefore shows the remarkable increase in size in a year of nearly 700 pounds or about two pounds a day. Its weight was greater by 204 pounds than the big hog of James Mears, deceased, killed in 1890 and up to last year the largest ever raised in the county, and was only 82 pounds less in weight than the big hog of George T. Mapp, Kellar, which was over 4 years old when killed.

The puny, Lizzie Edgerton, of Crisfield, commanded by Capt. A. E. Moore, went ashore during the storm last Saturday on Big Island bar and it is feared will be a total loss. The vessel was sighted by some of our people about 11 a. m. and a party consisting of Tommie Evans, Wesley Marsh, Jas. Marsh, Edward Ayres and George Martin went promptly to the rescue and succeeded after a perilous voyage in bringing the Captain and his crew of four men to land. The puny was loaded with lumber and bound for Crisfield and was nearly abreast Tangier Island when storm struck her and the Captain being unable to get into that harbor, tried to get into Chesconnessix creek but put her on the shoals by mistaking the outer buoy for the Chesconnessix buoy.
